

Boris Garafulic about to start at the Baja Portalegre 500

- Nasser Al-Attiyah unbeatable World Cup leader
- Last event in the FIA World Cup

X-raid travels with one MINI ALL4 Racing to the Baja Portalegre 500 (22nd -24th October 2015) in Portugal, the last event of the FIA World Cup for Cross-Country Rallies. Chilean Boris Garafulic and his Portuguese navigator Filipe Palmeiro take the chance for a last test with other competitors before the Dakar Rally 2016.

Nasser Al-Attiyah (QAT) and Mathieu Baumel (FRA) will not start in Portugal. They are uncatchable ahead of Vladimir Vasilyev in the overall point standings of the FIA World Cup for Cross Country Rallies 2015.

The Baja Portalegre is the shortest event in the FIA World Cup calendar. The competitors will race a super-special stage and a special stage over 85 kilometers on Friday. While on Saturday two special stages with a distance of 150 and 200 kilometers are waiting for them.

For the program click here

For the route click here